WONDER who nominated Bryan for 1900; or does the 1896 nomination hold good until followed by election?

THE ungaliant papers of Pennsylvania are blaming Mary Yellin' Lease for the depth of snow which fell on Bryanism in the Keystone state.

THROUGH the recent kidnapping o Milliopaire Campbell, of Hawaii, in San Francisco, he and a brother in Kaness have been united after a separation of forty-seven years.

ACCORDING to the official count, Henry of his political future. Buehman is entitled to a sest on the board of supervisors by a majority of fifteen. Mr. Buehman can congratulate himself on being the only republican elected on the county ticket.

THE popocratic press is still explaining how it was that Bryan was defeated. They offer many plausible excuses, but they persistently refuse to consider the chief reason-the fact that he was short about a million votes. It really appears as though they might be able to get this explanation through their crannumber of inquiries are being made for properties containing a fair percentage of the metal, and doubtless there will be many claims bonded and sold this winter This section of the territory is rich in copper and will be greatly benefitted in the advanced price of the metal.

THE struggle for Federal offices i now on, and it is curious to watch the manouvers of some of the strays from the republican fold. They are running up and down the outside of the corral, blesting and looking for a hole big enough to crawl through. It is not many months ago when the McKinley force in Tucson was reported to be five Now the woods is full of them, and more coming all the time.

Tucson is no place for greenhorns When an editor of wide and varied experience, with a shrewdness almost surpassing human understanding, can be "shanghaied" into a secret organization without having the slightest conception of the performance, it is time for common people of limited mental capacity to secure the services of a guardian when visiting the ancient and honorable pue-

THE new republican party of Pima county will be very select. No "$50 clarks, nor freight rustlers nor common carpenters" need apply. It is to be a party of brains (?) and good clothes, influence and wealth. All you common people who have been doomed by providence to earn your bread by the sweat of your brows had better stay in line with the old party who makes no such discrimination. "Alas for the rarity of christian charity under the sun."

BRYAN is already busily engaged in the campaign of 1900. From the enthusiastic way in which he goes to work, it might easily be imagined that he already had the nomination. But each day since the assurance of McKinley's election, the chances of Bryan and his kind, for a sect in the White house, have grown less and less, and will continue to diminish with a regularity which will prove very discouraging to the gentleman from the Platte. International bimetallism will settle the silver problem. The tariff issue is already settled. The prosperity which will accompany the Mc-Kinley administration will be so great that Bryan, Altgeld, Tillman, Dabe, and the whole lot will be forgotten forever. Accomping to one of the leading lights of the republican reorganization outfit, a "$50 grocery clerk, or a rustler in a freight house, or a common carpenter" has no right to a place on a republican central committee. It is really too bad. What a nerve a common, everyday workman must have to accept such a position, when there are accomplished newspaper men and hightoned gentlemen who desire to occupy these places! The renovated, laundried, starched and | deduces the philosophic axiom that the polished new reorganization may believe such rot, but the principles of the grand old republican party have made it possible for rail-splitters and canal-drivers to occupy the presidential chair, and will never bar even a "common carpenter" from a seat on a central committee. did so.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., made a test of voting machines on election day with excellent results. The Herald of that city says many men registered their vote in ten seconds. Such speed as that ought to make it possible to diminish the number of polling places in a city and cut down the expense of holding an election by the amount saved in voting booths, clerks and watchers. Machines are likely to be generally adopted in New York State.

Noring the fact that the districts which made the most noise for Bryan in the late canvass voted most heavily against him, "General" Coxey recalls a eimilar experience in his own career. When he ran for Governor of Ohio, he drew enormous crowds, awoke a stentorian hurrah, and yet received only 52,675 votes out of a poll of 837,466, From this the veteran commonwealer American people do not vote as they shout. It might be well for future aspirants for office to make a note of this fact, and use it in calculating their majorities. They might not come out so far behind their predictions if they
